Sincerest condolences, Saya, Wes, John, Mark, and all who loved Frank Baker. I'll miss his smile so big that he could eat a banana sideways, eyebrows so expressive that they had a voice of their own, his vast repertoire of dad jokes, huge, heartfelt hugs from this burly, hirsute man with a puakenikeni behind his ear... Frank and I shared a love for Arts and Crafts gardening; mālama i ka 'āina. His were the most fragrant roses this side of heaven. Won't be the same without you, Frank. Aloha, dear friend, I'll cherish memories of you.

Frank called his own play as time was running out, he fell short of the goal line but was carried off the field in the arms of angels to go meet the head coach of team Heaven where his play calls will be touchdowns every time with coach God showing him the way 🏈 Love , your little brother ♥

I am saddened to hear of Frank's death. I have been thinking of him a lot lately and decided to look him up, maybe he was trying to tell me something. Now I wish I had contacted him. I dated Frank at NAU a long time ago. I hope he had a happy life. My condolences to his family and friends. Sincerely, Leslie Allan
