Juan Ramos

NOV 24, 1956 - MAR 22, 2025

Juan Ramos, 68, of Hilo, Hawaii and Kula, Maui went home to be with the Lord on March 22, 2025. He was born on November 24, 1956, in Wailua, Oahu. Juan was a member of Calvary Chapel in Hilo where he led praise and worship with the music ministry. As a skilled carpenter and musician, he built homes for decades with love and care. He played music from the heart- bringing joy to countless celebrations, marking life's most special moments with melodies that will be remembered forever. Juan's work was more than just a profession-it was a labor of love, building a lifetime of relationships and connections.

He was loved by many and will always be remembered for his guitar or hammer in hand, kind heart, generosity, sense of humor, laughter, infectious smile, work ethic, integrity, undying love for his family and unwavering faith in God. Juan is survived by his wife Uluwehi; daughters, Sheron Ramos (Lee Peters), Hayley (Kaniela) Kealoha, and Chaika (Jonathan) Rebo; brothers, Julio, Adrian (Cheryl), and Alex Ramos; sisters, Julia (Darren) Shinoda and Junine Kapika; grandchildren, Carly Jo Rodrigues (Tyler), Dustin (Shy) and Cody (Kelsie) DePonte, Kaia and Kahikina Makanani (Aumoa), Naya, Lily-Ana and Jonah Kealoha; and great-grandchildren, Cyller Rodrigues, Kaulia and Lainey Rae DePonte; along with his loved nieces and nephews, church 'ohana, and band brothers. The 'Ohana would like to extend their deepest mahalo to everyone who supported them with Aloha, prayers and contribution. We are forever grateful!

Services to honor and celebrate Juan's life will be held on the Big Island and Maui

It's been a whole year since you left me 😞 March 22,2026The absence of one is the absence of the other.....❤️Navigating through this life without you has been my biggest challenge, I miss you so much love, it hurts. I have grown closer to God since your passing, as promised, I will never go astray, I long to see you again.I will never forget what we had, so many fond memories, the love we had for each other was like no other, you will forever be in my heart.I look forward to the day that we are reunited.....soon!! still listen to your voicemails, your praise and worship, I don't ever want to forget what you sound like, the smell of you is in the cologne that you used to wear, it's what I wear now, your pictures surrounds me daily.T his house will never be a home, loving you changed my life, losing you did the same.Forever your Loving wife (UKR) ☐☐As for me, I will see your face in righteousness, I shall be satisfied When I awake in your likeness.Psalms 17:15

It's been eight months since you left me 😞 November, 22 2025 Trying to remember the good times that we shared together doesn't come easy, it's the struggles that we both endured together in those final months that's embedded in my head. The strength I never knew I had, in my mind, body and soul, caring for you the way you always cared for me..... Thank you Lord, I thank God everyday, even through the toughest times and I continue to thank him for blessing me with you. I lived for you, I would've died for you. ❤️ I miss you desperately. 🙏🙏 Your loving wife (UKR) ☐

It's been six months since you left me 😞 September, 22 2025 I saw you die, but I could do was sit close by, I held you so tight in my arms and whispered I love you till you were gone, your last breath broke me into a million pieces, I died with you that day. How am I supposed to go on living? God put you in my life for a reason, to be my husband, my "Life" partner, you lead me to the lord, I looked to you for answers and in a blink of an eye you were gone, gone from me and in the presence of the lord. I know you are at peace, I just wish I was too. Your loving wife (UKR) 🙏🙏🙏
Blessed is the man who perseveres under trial, because when he has stood the test, he will receive the crown of life that God has promised to those who love him. James 1:12
